At Flagship, you get more than you pay for ...

“As someone who is a student of 'teaching as an art', I never expected this. With over 30 years of teaching experience myself and decades of service afloat, I have to say that my experience in Flagship's classroom left me feeling like a 'rookie' professional mariner. All should know, from the time you walk through the door, everywhere you look in the classroom, every presentation, every exercise, every challenge, Flagship Maritime Training is THE institute for the professional. This training was priceless.”

Ronald W. Quinsey, Paramedic / Fire Captain (Ret)
